BACK IN THE WHITE HOUSE.

THE PRESIDENT SAYS HE ENJOYED HIS VA-CATION VERY MCCH.

He Arrives In New York This Morning By Bont and Proceeds At Once By Rail to Washington.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 .- At 6:30 this morning the steamer Pilgrim, of the Fall River line, reached her dock. Among her pascongers was President Harrison. A large crowd assembled on the dock when it became known that the president was on board. The president was up early looked fresh and healthy and said he enjoyed his vacation very much. He was in a great hurry to go to Washington and did not remain in this city, but walked direct to the Pennsylvania railroad annex boat for Jersey City a few minutes after the Pil-

Ex-President and Mrs. Cleveland arrived by the steamer Providence, also of the Fall River line, about 8 o'clock.

President Harrison and Secretary Hal-ford left for Washington on the 8:15 limited over the Pennsylvania road. They occupied President Roberts' private car. They will go direct through without any stops. Washinoton, Aug. 16.—The president and Private Secretary Halford arrived at the White House at 2:08 this afternoon.

The president's first act upon reaching the White House was to telegraph Mrs. Harrison that he had returned safely. She will take the Puritan to-night and reach Washington to morrow afternoon, just in time to join President Harrison at the sta-tion and proceed with him to Deer Park.

SCALDED BY WATER AND COFFEE. A Little Girl and a Boy Accidentally and Severety Injured.

Columbia, Aug. 16.—Flora Sciple, a small daughter of Wm. E. Sciple, living on Poplar street, was badly scalded at the picnic at Heise's woods yesterday. A coffee pot was standing over a fire and the little girl opset it, received the contents over both arms and breast. The child is terribly scalded about the body and arms. Gene Wann, a three-year-old son of Chas. E. Wann, was painfully scalded last evening by receiving the hot contents of a bowl of water. The child accidentally upset the bowl which was standing on a Clark Keys left this morning for a visit to Camden.

A Lancaster Man's Great Invention. John C. Reilly, a former resident of this city, and now superintendent of the New York and New Jersey telephone company has invented an apparatus and method whereby the present large outlay for underground cables promises to be reduced nearly fifty per cent. The Electrical Review of August 10 published a long article on Mr. Reilly's invention with illustrations, and says that he being a practical telephone man of long experience has worked out an invention original and of practical value. The invention is in actual use by the New York and New Jersey Telephone company in underground circuits, and is giving great satisfaction.

Mr. Reilly's brother Peter, also well known in this city, is in the employ of the same telephone company as superintendent of the supply department.

The many friends of John C. Reilly will be pleased to learn that his invention will bring him fame and fortune.

The Boy Identified.

The body of the drowned boy found in canal basin at Columbia, on Monday, has been identified as George Deltzel, aged 10 years, son of Mrs. John Beitzel, of Columbia. He started to walk to Marietta on Saturday to visit his uncle, John Breidinger. How he came to full into the water is unknown.

The body was exhumed this morning and buried by the side of his father in Mount Bethel cemetery, the funeral services being held at the grave by Rev. E. Ludwick. Mrs. Deitzel is a widow and is almost heart broken over the unfortunate death of her eldest child. On Sunday morning a memorial service will be held in Salem United Brethren Sunday school.

Pata the Costs and Settled. The case of Philip Fox against Harry Resh, charging the latter with disorderly conduct, has been settled. Resh paid Alderman Pinkerton the costs,

DRUNK IN A DENTIST'S CHAIR. Bad Policy to Mix Nitrous Oxide and Bad Polley to Mix Nitrous Oxide and Whisky.

Dr. Neil Downey, dentist, of Minneapolis, had an experience with a fellow Wednesday night that makes his teeth chatter and his hair pull when he thinks about it. A big, broad-shouldered hewer of pine walked into the doctor's office, Hoffin's drug store, and said that he wanted two teeth extracted, and that he wanted gas administered.

The visitor was directed to take his seat in the chair and did so, when the doctor noticed that the would-be patient was pretty well impregnated with liquor, and ventured the remark:

"My good man, you have been drinking, and the combined effects of alcohol and gas would not be conducive to your well being."

"Yes, I've been drinking, and I've been drinking plenty," gruffly replied the visitor.

"And you're an nely devil when, you're

"And you're an ugly devil when you're full, too," thought the dentist, although he didn't say it. But he was reassured when the man smiled and, in a gentlemanly tone, the man smiled and, in a gentlemanly tone, said:

"Oh, that's all right. I only had two glasses of beer." Being reassured, Dr. Downey proceeded to administer the gas. The patient lay back in the chair, and the gas was administered. In a few moments the man began to feel its influence, and rising in his seat he fixed his eyes on the practitioner. They had a far-away look.

Suddenly it dawned upon the dector that the man was crazy drunk, but before he had time to act the fellow sprang like a madman from the chair and attempted to seize the doctor by the throat. The doctor managed, however, to throw his body backward just out of the man's reach, and at the ward just out of the man's reach, and at the same time spized a bunch of forceps lying same time seized a bunch of forceps lying near at hand.

Murder was plainly imprinted on the visitor's face. Making a sudden rush for the doctor, the latter raised his forceps and let fly, striking the man on the forchead and inflicting a wound from which the blood spurted ten feet. The attack was checked and the doctor yelled:

"Sit down in that chair and I will sew up your head." At first the half-crazy man hesitated, b it the determined manner of the doctor seemed to decide him, and he started for the chair. The doctor approached behind to patch up the wound, when he saw that the man was preparing when he saw that the man was preparing to strike him a murderous blow. The doctor dodged and struck the brute under the right car. The blow knocked him down. Seeing a base ball bat in the corner the doctor seized it and stood over the half-dazed man. dazed man.

"Get up in that chair! yelled the dentist, flourishing the club. With a sickly smile the victim arose and quietly sat down in the chair, allowing the doctor to plaster up his head without a mormer. When the job was completed he arose and smiled, and, holding out his hand to the dentist, said.

said:
"Doe, you're a dandy. You're the first fellow that ever knocked me down with his fists. How much is it?"
"Three dollars," promptly replied the doctor. Without a word the man handed over the silver dollars and walked out, not even mentioning the fact that his teeth were still in his law.

action taken at a former meeting when John H. Landis succeeded in getting his centennial tariff celebration scheme foisted on the fair managers will be reconsidered. Instead, several distinguished gentlemen will be invited to deliver addresses at the fair grounds, but they will not talk on any political subject. These speeches will be on subjects of interest to the farmer, Mr. Landis has made arrangements for Robert P. Porter to deliver a tariff speech in the court house during fair week. The Wagon broke Down.

While engaged in transporting some household goods this morning, one of Aug F. Reino hl & Co,'s wagons caught on the street car track, at the corner of North Queen and Chestnut streets, and tore off wheel. The goods were transferred to another wagon and the broken wagon sent to the shop for repairs.

Caught By the Wheels. Herman Odell had his left foot badly hurt this morning in the west yards of the F. R. R., at Columbia. He was struck by engine No. 1,267 which was putting some cars on coal hill. The engine ran over his left foot, twisting off the sole and heel and bruising the heel, instep and toes of his foot. Dr. Craig dressed the wound and the man was sent to the Laucaster hospital. Odell was a former resident of Columbia and is known to the old residents as Buddy."

When Odell arrived in this city he was placed in an vehicle and conveyed to the county hospital.

It shows Two Men Married. The clerk of the orphans' court frequently receives from ministers queerly recorded marriage returns. One he received to day certified that he married John Jones to James Smith. These were not the names of the parties, but illustrate the form of return, his certificate reading that he joined two men in the holy bonds of matrimony. The minister has been notified to call at the office and correct his return.

A Thief Captured by a Woman. Mrs. R. H. Bryan, a small and delicate looking woman of Milwaukee, thought she heard a noise in her bed room on Wednesday evening. She made an examination and found the window had been open, and, on looking out, she saw a yearg man in the yard. He asked for Mr. Johnson, and on being told that he did not live there, started up the alley toward the street. The lady looked in the bureau and missed her gold watch. Seging her had a large to the street. gold watch. Seizing her husband's revolver gold watch. Seizing her husband's revolver from the drawer she followed and overtook the third getting the drop on him before he expected. Be sure you are right, then go ahead. The last two seasons we had the reputation of selling the Best Flannels for the money in the city. This season wool is higher. To sell the same kind a same price as last season means we have to pay more for it. Last season our profits were small and it means smaller profits this season. Those who bought our Medicated Red Twill Flannel a 25c last season know what a good article it was, some saving it was better than they saw at 35c, others said it was as good as they saw at 35c, although with the advance in the price of wool will give you the same identical makes of Flannels at the same price you bought them of us last season, and we know when we say, you never bought as good Flannels in your life for the money we know we are right. In all colors, Navy Blue, Grey, Red, Yellow or White, in plain or twill, it wool or half wool, you will find us the lowest. We do not occupy as much ground floor as some others do, our expenses are small and so are our profits. All-Wool Shrunk Skirting Flannels it striped, with or without borders, that will not shrink when you wash it, at $1.50 per skirt, or you can buy by the yard as much as you like. Cotton Flannels in remnants at 5, 614, 8, 10 and 125 cents.
